THE THOROUGHBRED

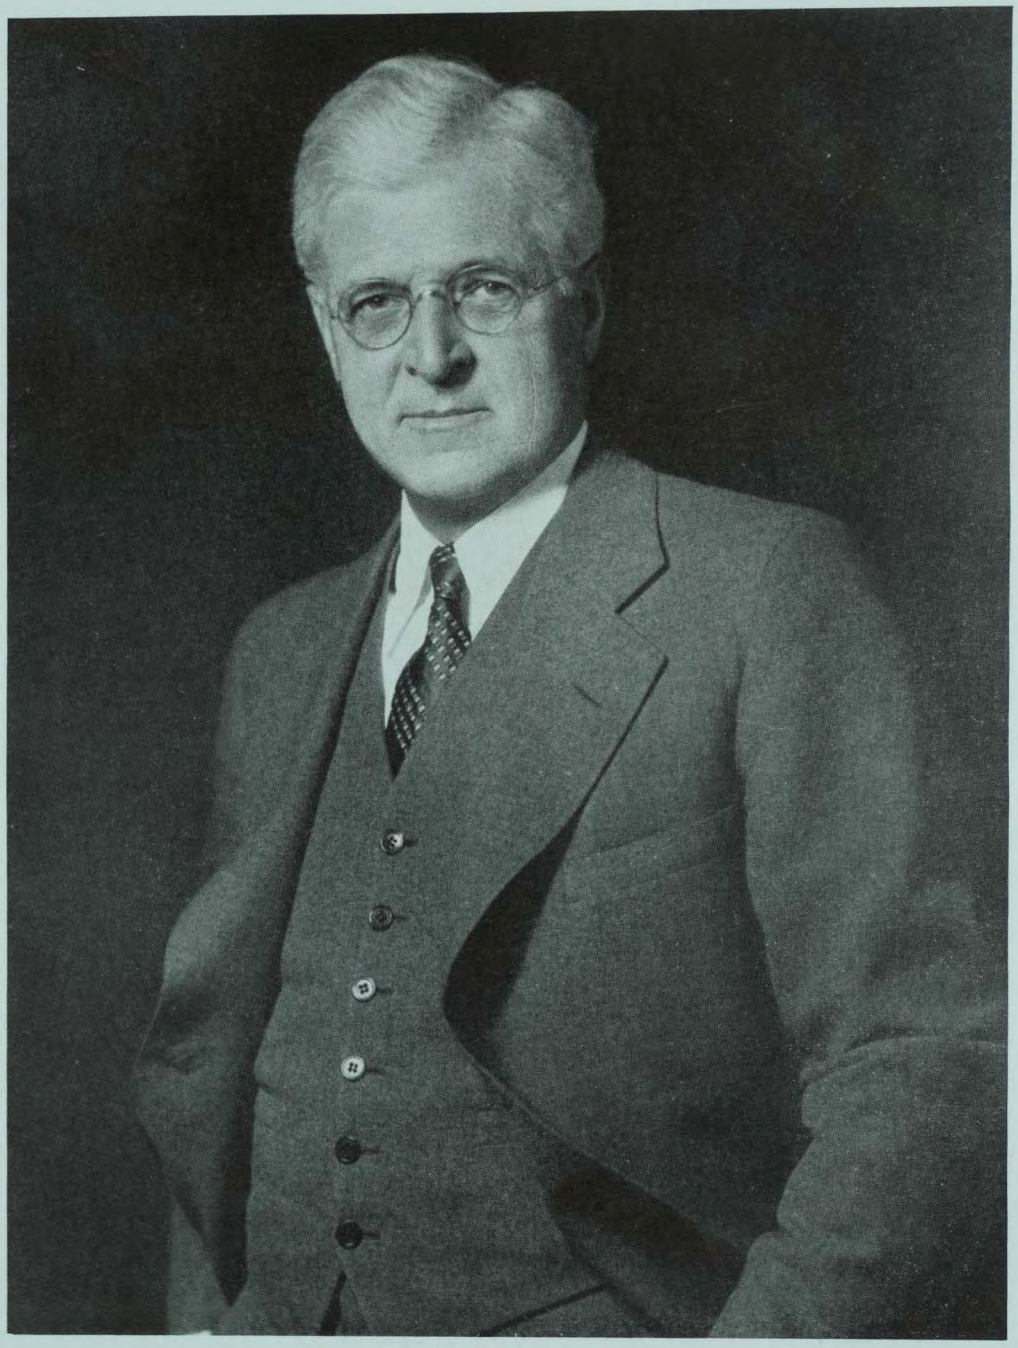

NINETEEN HUNDRED AND FORTY

FOREWORD

The 1940 Thoroughbred is designed to inform and remind its readers in future years how the students of the University of Louisville looked and what they did in the Year of Our Lord 1940 and the Year of the University 103.

The 1939 Thoroughbred commemorated the One Hundredth Anniversary of the University of Louisville. The 1940 Thoroughbred pays tribute to Dr. Raymond A. Kent and to the success of his first decade as its President.

The staff has attempted to make this yearbook representative of the entire University. It looks upon each school and department not as isolated units but as integral parts of a live and growing organism. If the Thoroughbred has fostered in any way a greater spirit of unity, the staff will consider its efforts successful.

Raymond Asa Kent

SCHOOL OF MEDICINE

During the early years of President Kent's and Dean Moore's administration, the School of Medicine was in need of more room, larger faculty and better teaching facilities. The securing of funds in 1934 from the Public Works Administration for an annex to the Medical School was an important event for the School and for the University. This addition provided more space for laboratories, lecture rooms, offices and the library.

The building of a wing of the City Hospital was also a great gain for the University.

Within recent years valuable connections have been made by the School with the Children's Free Hospital, Waverly Hills Tuberculosis Sanitorium and a Mental Hygiene Clinic. Here the students obtain additional actual experience.

Through the aid given by the Commonwealth Fund, the School enlarged the Psychiatric Department. The School has established a full-time teaching staff with Dr. Spafford Ackerly as the Director of Service and Dr. William K. Keller as Assistant Professor of Psychiatry.

The Department of Surgery also has a full-time professor, and head and associate professor; Dr. Arnold Griswold and Dr. Joseph E. Hamilton, respectively, filling these positions.

Another step in the development of the Medical School was the establishment in 1933 of a Department of Public Health. In 1939 it was decided that the City Director of Public Health would also be the Head of the Department of Public Health of the School of Medicine. Dr. Hugh Rodman Leavell now holds this position.

John Walker Moore became the Dean of the School of Medicine in 1928, shortly before the arrival of Dr. Kent. The American Medical Association, American College of Physicians and Surgery and Southern Medical Association are only a few of the organizations to which Dr. Moore belongs.

The national organization had its inception in two fraternities, each known as Phi Chi, one of which was established at the University of Louisville in 1894, and the other at the University of Vermont in 1889. These two existed independently of, and unknown to, each other, until the were combined into a national medical fraternity in 1901. For this reason the University of Vermont chapter is known as Alpha Chapter, while that of the University of Louisville is known as Alpha Alpha.

SCHOOL OF LAW

LAW SCHOOL

In the space of a few years the University of Louisville's Law School has undergone sweeping changes, both in physical assets and in its spirit. It has expanded from a dingy, dark building, which threatened to collapse at any moment, to a magnificent structure that is the current envy of all Southern law schools.

The curriculum has been improved, enrollment has increased, and the library and research facilities have been immeasurably strengthened by rare and valuable volumes. The Allen Court Room where students now receive practical experience in the moot court trials was only completed this year at great expense and relieves the school of the necessity for going to the Criminal Court downtown to hold its trials.

The past several years have also seen the introduction of an honor system into the school which worns without flaws.

Dean J. N. Lott, Jr. of the Law School is a Southerner by birth, voice, and manner, and received his legal education in the south. He holds his LL.B. from the University of Virginia. Under his administration the School has made many advances which had long existed only as hopes.

BRIEFING SERVICE

Perceiving the need for further practical training for the student of law, Dean Joseph A. McClain, Jr., inaugurated what is believed to be the first law school briefing service at Mercer University Law School, Macon, Georgia, in 1927. Seven years later Dean McClain brought this unique clinical device with him to the University of Louisville School of Law and in October 1934 established the University of Louisville Law School Briefing Service. With the exception of time taken out for the regular university holidays, this Briefing Service has rendered continuous service since that time.

The purpose of this organization is twofold. It not only provides a "teething ring" for the "baby barrister", in that it gives him some conception of the questions with which he will be confronted upon entering the practice of law, but it also renders invaluable service to members of the bar who find themselves hampered in their research because of limited library facilities in their own communities. It virtually places at the elbow of every licensed practicing attorney throughout the Commonwealth of Kentucky, and in some instances in other states, the 19,000 volume library of the University of Louisville School of Law.

Membership on the staff of the Briefing Service is qualified by high standards of scholarship and general efficiency. A student with a credit standing of "B" or better at the end of his first semester in the School of Law becomes eligible for appointment to the staff, although at that time he is prepared to handle only the most elementary problems of law.

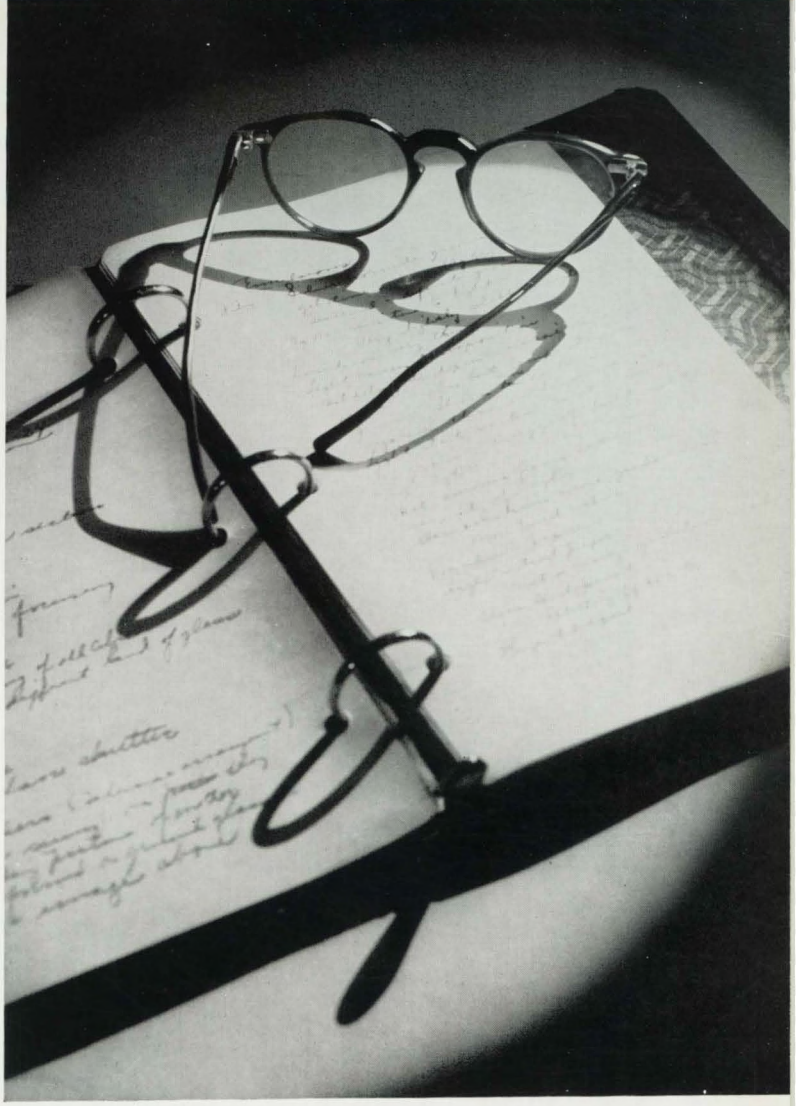

LEGAL AID SOCIETY

Law students of the University of Louisville School of Law now obtain the much needed practical experience of working out an actual case with a real client. Such training is presented in the Law School Branch of the Legal Aid Society, established this year on the campus, under the direction of Eugene Field, general counsel of the Louisville main office. In addition to affording opportunities for learning the proper "approach" to the client in trouble, the Legal Aid branch stimulates study and preparation of cases to be presented in the regular courts.

There are nearly one hundred Legal Aid Societies throughout the United States. All of them have as their main purpose the helping of poor people who are financially unable to defend themselves against the wealthier credit houses, loan sharks, and unscrupulous persons of all sorts. The causes of the person without money, although just as meritorious as any cause, cannot be profitably handled by the ordinary attorney. The time and trouble of a small case results in a fee which generally equals or is more than the recovery. Thus, all over America, legal service is extended to persons who are unable to employ private counsel with the Legal Aid Societies making little or no charge. Such an organization is of a distinctly social welfare value and should be supported and encouraged by all who love fairness and justice for all.

The Louisville office, in continuous operation since 1922, is a Community Chest agency and is thus sponsored as a semi-public charity.

COLLEGE OF LIBERAL ARTS

Dean

COLLEGE OF LIBERAL ARTS

Revision of the curriculum has been the keynote of College of Liberal Arts development during the Thirties. Chief characterization of this has been the broader education made possible by the division of the College into Junior and Senior Colleges, the former representing the first and second years, and the latter, the third and fourth.

Comprehensive major examinations came into general use during this period; provisions were also made for independent study, a method of instruction which emphasized achievement rather than slavish dependence upon grades given by teachers. It allowed greater freedom to the individual student.

The office of college physician was established for the first time in 1930.

In 1931 Miss Hilda Threlkeld became the first full-time Dean of Women.

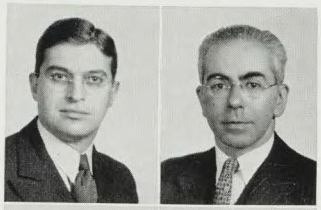

Growth has been most noticeable in the departments of English and the Social Sciences. Departments of Art History and Music History have been formed.

The campus itself has been improved, and a new gymnasium has been built.

An important addition to the University and an outgrowth of the College of Liberal Arts was the establishment of the Municipal College for Negroes and the purchase of its grounds and buildings.

Julius John Oppenheimer has been serving as dean since 1930. A native of Missouri, he holds degrees from the State Teachers' College in Warrensburg, Missouri, the University of Missouri and Columbia University. He has taught at the University of Missouri and Stephens College.

The Student Council of the College of Liberal Arts is more than a representative body of students; it is the culmination of an attempt on the part of the College to inculcate into the students a sense of civic responsibility necessary to make them worthy members of the community. Through the medium of the Council the student body actively enters into the solving of its own problems; the Council is, therefore, the agency which unites the naturally heterogeneous student body in a common purpose: that of self-government.

In the pursuance of this objective the Student Council renders a wide variety of services both to the students and to the University. Its chief function is the regulation and administration of student activities and University functions. It supervises student organizations and social events sponsored by them. It endeavors to promote better social relations among the students and between the student body and the faculty. It attempts to provide for the needs of the students insofar as this is within its ability.

The purpose of this organization is to regulate student affairs in accordance with the constitution and by-laws of the Council, and to represent the student body in matters of mutual interest to the faculty and administration, and the student body.

The Student Council is composed of 17 members, namely, one representative from each of the four professional societies, i.e., A.I.Ch.E., A.S.C.E., A.I.E.E., and the A.S.M.E; three representatives from the senior class; two representatives from each section of the junior and sophomore classes; and two representatives from the freshman class. A student, in order to become a member of the Council must have attained a grade average of "C", for the preceding school year, freshmen excepted. The officers of the Council are elected by a majority vote of the Council, and must be members of the senior class.

The Student Council of the School of Law proudly regards itself as the voice of the student body. In 1933, Neville Miller, then Dean of the Law School, said in a letter to the Council, "As a matter of fact the entire discipline of the student body could be handled by the Council". This suggestion was taken and since then all problems concerning the students come before the Council. Their most salient project is getting the Barristers' Ball rolling every Spring.

"The pledge of the College of Cardinals shall be service to the University."

The College of Cardinals is an honor society, composed of campus leaders, each of whom has proved his ability as a leader, and has held honor in some major college activity. In addition to the student members, who must be in the senior college, there are faculty participants, but these, too, are chosen by the body of the oganization, unanimously, and judged by their interest in college activity. They may not exert their influence upon student members by using their faculty prestige, they may not number more than one-third of the group, and they are in all ways on an equal basis with the students.

The purpose of the College of Cardinals is the promotion of a healthy college community spirit, to be brought about through the mutual understanding of groups of individuals. To effect this purpose, the acknowledged leaders of the various major activities are brought together, in a unified attempt to solve the social problems found in the University and on the campus.

With a small membership, to insure every voice being heard before decisions are made, the organization also insists on this limited size in order to maintain high quality of candidates elected. Standards, even of eligibility, are high, yet all those eligible are not elected—only the best!

Election to the College of Cardinals is considered the highest honor a man in the college can attain.

Sigma Tau, honorary engineering fraternity, was founded February 24, 1905, at the University of Nebraska. The motive of the founders was a desire to be of service to engineering education in the institution where the fraternity was first established.

In determining the basis of elgibility to membership in the fraternity, those qualities that best give promise of a successful career were selected. They are as follows:

1. Scholarship, or quality of technical training. Membership is restricted to the upper one-third of the junior and senior classes of recognized engineering colleges.
2. Practicality, or judgment.
3. Sociability, or attitude toward others.

In the years immediately following the fraternity's establishment, national expansion was discouraged. These years were spent in strengthening Alpha Chapter, only two new chapters being installed. In 1912, the first National Council was elected, and since that time the history of the fraternity has been one of constant expansion. There are now 23 chapters and five alumni associations, with wide geographic distribution, the total membership at present nearing 8,000.

At the National conclave of 1914, provision was made for a national publication, the "Pyramid."

Omicron Chapter was installed Dec. 21, 1935, taking over active members and alumni of Sigma Omicron, a local organization formed in 1929 and similar to Sigma Tau. It stimulates scholarship in several ways: by making membership in Sigma Tau a sought-for goal; by giving prizes for high scholarship; by offering free tutoring to freshmen, something that has aroused much interest among the other chapters.

The University of Louisville Student Branch of the American Institute of Chemical Engineers had its beginning in the Fall of 1925, when the Chemical Engineering Society of Speed Scientific School was organized at the suggestion of Dr. R. C. Ernst, the present counselor. At that time the membership totaled twelve, and this small group formed the pioneering nucleus of what is now a membership of eighty-six. Growth was steady from the first, and when application was made for a Student Branch of the A. I. Ch. E. late in 1933, the membership had risen to twenty-five, and the activities and prominence of the organization had increased markedly. The installation of the Chapter was early in 1934.

The Pallas Club is a Senior honorary organization for women. It was founded in 1931 to give recognition to women outstanding in scholastic achievement and campus leadership. Members are elected at the close of the Junior year.

The organization attempts to render service to the University in every way possible. On November 29, 1938, it sponsored the first annual All-University tag sale for the purpose of supplementing the Joseph Steiger Memorial Student Loan Fund.

The Pallas Club is interested in helping to bridge the gap between high school and college life by rendering counselling service to Seniors in the local Girls' High Schools.

Each year the club presents an award to the Freshman woman who best exemplifies the ideals for which the organization stands.

WOMEN'S ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

Arterburn Bridges Caven Gordon Harris Lynch
Morton Roe Strull Stuart Yeager

The primary purpose of the Women's Athletic Association is organizing and promoting women's athletics on the campus. This organization is governed by a cabinet composed of twelve girls—six holding positions of president, vice-president, recording secretary, corresponding secretary, treasurer and publicity chairman, and six being the heads of hockey, basketball, volleyball, tennis, ping pong, swimming and soft ball teams. At the beginning of the Fall term, this administrative cabinet meets and draws up an athletic and social schedule for the whole year.

For participation in these sports, girls are given points which accumulate until there is a total of 500. Then a seal is awarded, and when 1000 points are earned, an "L" sweater is given.

Our social program is headed by our annual "Tennis Ball," and is followed up by mass meetings, teas, hikes, hayrides, swimming parties, skating parties, etc. The proceeds of this annual "Tennis Ball" go into a fund for tennis courts which the organization hopes to be able to build in the near future.

Every woman on the campus is eligible for membership, which can be obtained by paying 50 cents dues a year. This membership entitles a girl to participate in the W. A. A. athletic and social programs.

The University of Louisville Women's League was founded in December, 1908. Its purpose is to regulate all matters pertaining to the student life of its women members which do not fall under the jurisdiction of the faculty and to bring about greater unity and mutual helpfulness among the women of the University.

All women students of the University who pay required dues are active members and eligible to vote and to hold office.

The organization is governed by a council consisting of president, vice-president, secretary and treasurer who are elected each Spring by active members and one representative from each of the undergraduate classes and a representative from each of the following organizations: Y.W.C.A., W.A.A., Panhellenic Association, the Home Economics Club, social organizations, and the Pallas Club.

On the campus the Women's League establishes and strengthens traditions and customs serving to solidify campus life. One project is freshman orientation and a tea for entering freshmen women. The organization sponsors a Vice-Versa Dance the proceeds from which go to furnishing the Women's Building and to make it a more presentable place for U. of L. Co-Eds. The organization also attempts to improve student-faculty relationship by giving an annual tea for the faculty. It holds luncheons, at which speakers discuss matters of interest, and an annual banquet each Spring, at which time all honors to be won by co-eds for the following year are announced.

The Women's League is grateful to Dean Hilda Threlkeld, whose understanding and co-operation as an adviser have been invaluable.

The purpose of the Y. W. C. A. of the University of Louisville is to build a fellowship of women students devoted to the task of realizing those ideals of personal and social living to which we are committed by our faith as Christians.

The organization draws its membership and leadership from all denominations and from those without church affiliation. It is non-denominational, campus-centered, but definitely a Christian movement.

The governing body is the Cabinet which is composed of the president, vice-president, secretary, treasurer, and the chairmen of the eight standing committees. This group meets once a week, planning and organizing the program for the year.

A luncheon meeting is held monthly, at which time there is presented a program that carries out the year's theme. For the year 1939-1940, the theme is "Others," i.e., "Others" on the campus, in the city, state, county, and even foreign countries.

The Y. W. C. A. sponsors a Bible Class which meets weekly under the guidance of Mrs. E. S. Allen.

The University Magazine, the University of Louisville's literary publication, is issued five times during the school year, has a circulation of 2500 copies and is the modicum of University poets and story-writers who are its sole authors.

It was first issued in 1936 as a joint student-alumni magazine. The first editor was Thomas A. Bledsoe, well-known for his all-around campus activity, who was followed to the editorship by Juanita Weyler. Upon the succession of Miss Weyler by Co-editors Tommy Thomas and William Pate, the University Magazine became independent of the alumni association and has since been a purely student publication. Succeeding Thomas and Pate was the Co-editorship of Pate and Jesse James Tronic of the Dental School, whose appointment indicated the All-University quality growing out of the interest in the publication. Pate's unfilled term was filled by Elvis Lane, long prominent on Belknap Campus as a student as well as a professional journalist.

In June, 1939, Avrom M. Isaacs was appointed to the Editorship after a two year career of college journalism which started in his freshman year with the Cardinal column, "Crazy Cosmos", which was reprinted in many other college publications. He appointed Charles Harbin as his assistant Editor and Merle Welch as his Circulation Manager.

The growing All-University character of the magazine has been reflected in the number of contributions from Medical, Dental, and Law Schools, as well as the College of Liberal Arts, the latter formerly being the only source of contributions.

Among this year's contributions were Madge Gliessner, Bob Corrigan, Mildred Coffman, Al Kershaw, Majorie Shatz, Cyril Kahn, Danny Strassberg, Sol London, Jane Davidson, Ray Miner, Morrison Cooke, Mary Beth Warwick, Marian Cardwell, Jay Schwartz, Roy Haynes, Eddie Simon, and many other anonymous contributors.

Official student newspaper of U. of L., Cardinal has a circulation of 2,500. In pages of five columns, it varied between four and eight pages during the school year 1939-1940.

For the first time in Cardinal's history, the publication received an All-American rating in the Associated Collegiate press ratings. The previous highest rating was First Class.

Cardinal was first published September 16, 1932, succeeding the old Louisville News, a strictly Liberal Arts publication. Staff position in early Cardinals were filled almost exclusively by professional school students. Since 1934, however, with the removal of the office to Belknap Campus, Liberal Arts students have edited the paper with other schools contributing.

First editor of the Cardinal was Charles DeSpain, 1932-1932½. He was succeeded by J. J. Crumely, 1932½-1933. Other editors: Edmund Baxter, 1933-1934; Leon Schlossberg, 1934-1935; Lewis M. Cohen, 1935-1936; Robert N. Kelso, Jr., 1936-1937; William A. Stephenson, 1937-1938; Rhodes Jackson, 1938-1939.

DRAMA

The University of Louisville Players opened their twenty-sixth season with "PROLOGUE TO GLORY" by E. P. Conkle. This play was the one hundredth major production under the direction of Mr. Boyd Martin.

OFFICERS

RAY MINER ..... President
WILLARD BENSON ..... Vice-President
GRACE TOWLES ..... Secretary
IDA JANE LATTA ..... Business Manager

The chief members of the cast of forty in "PROLOGUE TO GLORY" were:

Abe Lincoln ..... Ray Miner
Denny ..... Joe E. Duncan
Denton Offut ..... Fred Jones
Squire Bowlin Green ..... Tom Crume
Col. Rutledge ..... Livingston Gilbert
Jack Kelso ..... John Ludlow
Tom Lincoln ..... Warren Bradbury
Ann Rutledge ..... Jean Webber
Granny Rutledge ..... Esther Schlossberg
Jack Armstrong ..... Jack Sall
Aunt Polly ..... Dolly Gordon
Mrs. Rutledge ..... Sophia Farbach
Vorhees ..... Robert Leopold
Sarah Lincoln ..... Mary Trueheart Williamson

"PROLOGUE TO GLORY" was based on the New Salem years of Abe Lincoln when he was a long lazy frontiersman with no ambition. How his fragile sweetheart Ann and his many kind friends prodded him to make something of himself, how Abe wrestled the town bully and ran for the legislature, the tragedy of Ann's death, the new beginning of Abe's life in Springfield—such was the story of "PROLOGUE TO GLORY" as acted out in eight elaborate sets. The outstanding work of the play was done by Ray Miner who looked and acted his part with sincerity.

DAME NATURE was the second production of the season. It was adapted from the French of Andre Birabeau. Its cast was:

Andre Brisac ..... Robert Freeman
Batton ..... Willard Benson
M. Brisac ..... Livingston Gilbert
Dr. Faridet ..... Joe Severance
Uncle Lucien ..... Leonard Lusky
Beer ..... Billy Woods
Leonie Perrot ..... Martha Williams
Old Max ..... Marcus Burke
Me. Brisac ..... Nancy Kirk
Nanine ..... Betty Millard
Paul Marechal ..... Jeffry Wallack
Boy ..... Joe Kotheimer

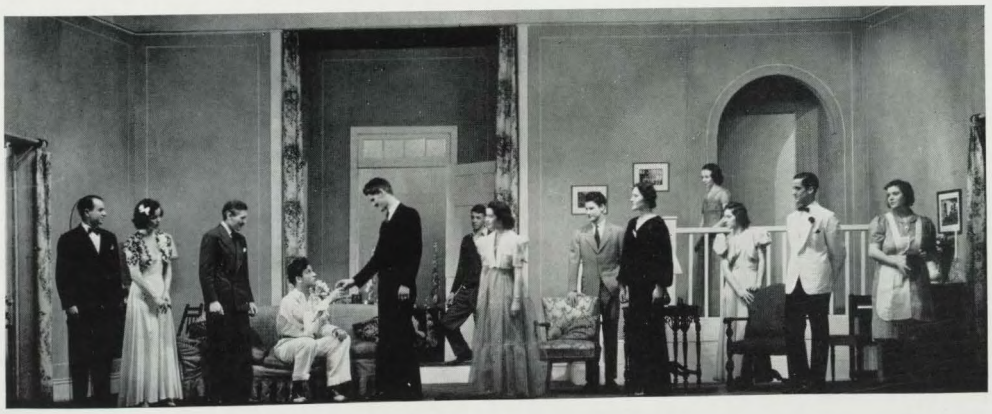

The theme of DAME NATURE was adolescent love confronted with the problem of parenthood. Leonie, a young orphan who tends a shop in Paris, suddenly learns she is to have a baby. Her sweetheart is Andre, a schoolboy whose parents are too much engrossed in their petty quarrels to notice that he is no longer a baby (Andre's mother makes him wear short pants and calls him "Baby"). When the young lovers learn they are to become parents they take their responsibility seriously and plan the future of their child, who will be in school when Andre is just finishing his training to be a doctor. The young lovers were played with tenderness and skill by Bob Freeman and Martha Williams. The delicate handling of this play made it an artistic achievement. The two settings, Leonie's shop and the beautiful gilded library of the Brisac home, were very well done.

JUNE MAD by F. Rogerson and C. Clements was the third play of the season. In the cast were:

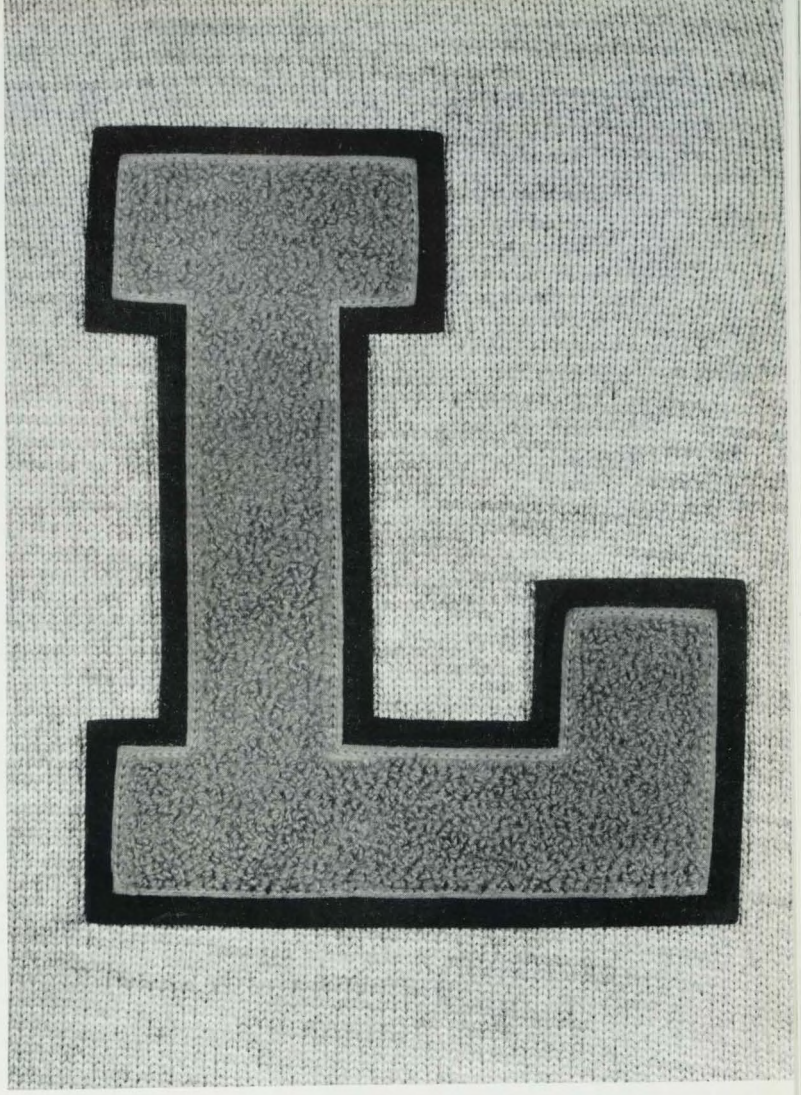

Penny ..... Virginia Powell
Mrs. Wood ..... Clementi Lacey-Baker
Elmer Tuttle ..... Clark Gregory
Mervyn ..... Joe Serverance
Roger ..... Whitney O'Bannon
Chuck ..... Kermit Koenig
Dr. Wood ..... Ray Miner
Effie ..... Grace Moss
Julie ..... Ethel Smith
Milly Lou ..... Mary Louise Crawley
Mr. Harris ..... Marcus Burke
Shirley ..... Dorothy Cotton
Ralph ..... Bob Dean

June Mad was delightful comedy about growing up. Penny is at the dangerous age when she is no longer a child and not yet a woman. She aspires to be a great writer, or an actress, or a dancer. Meanwhile, she takes for granted her long-suffering boy friend, Chuck, whose life is made miserable by her and his misunderstanding father. Roger the smoothie was constantly chasing one girl after another and almost broke Penny's heart when she discovered he was only fooling her. Comedy hit of the show was Grace Moss as Effie, the cook. For pure comedy, June Mad was outstanding.

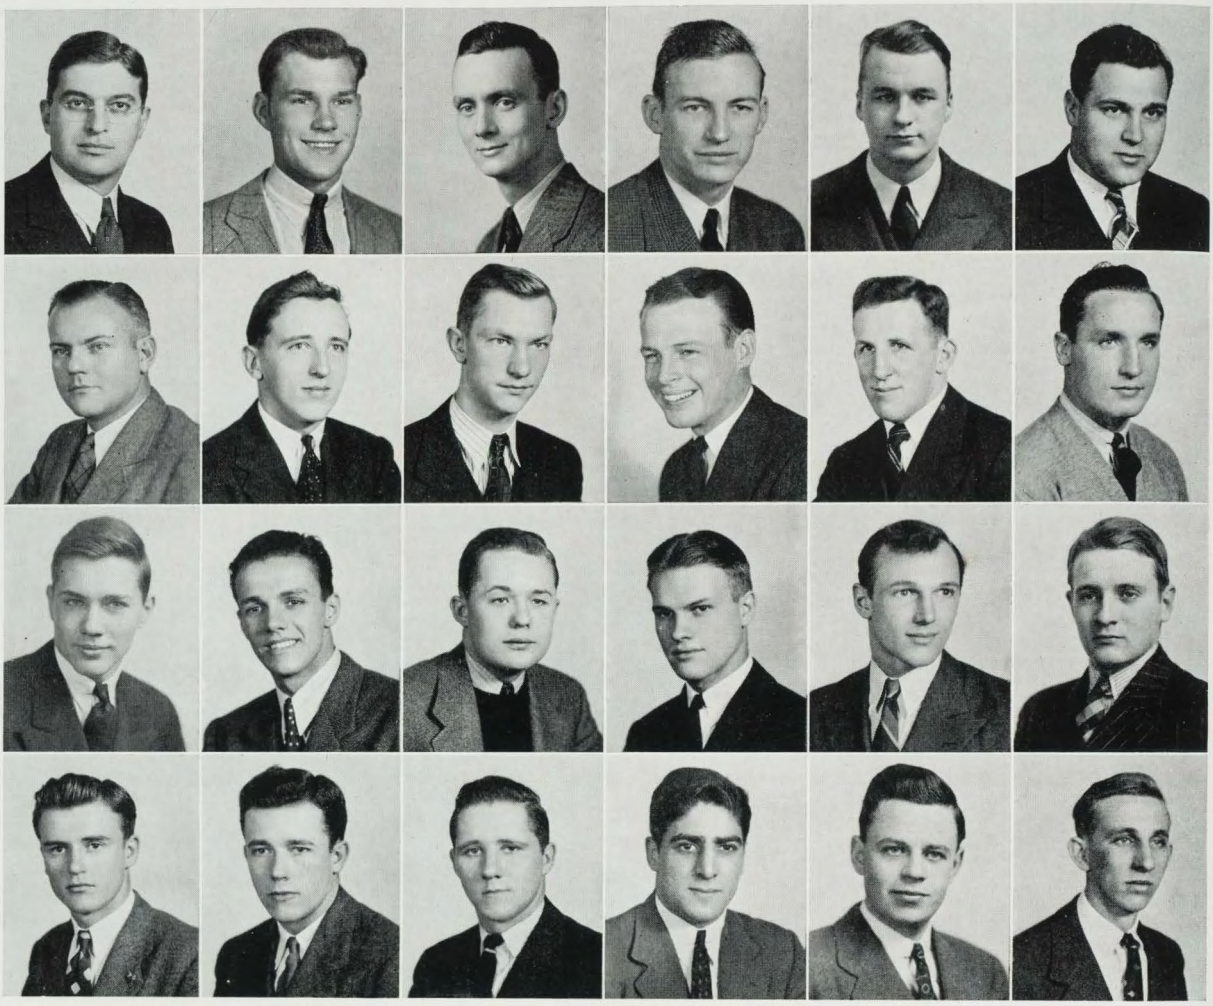

The fourth and last offering of the year is to be a world premiere of Sleet by Credo Fitch Harris. This play promises to be an exciting mystery melodrama. With the production of Sleet the Players will close their twenty-sixth season, one of their most successful in fine production of fine plays.

"L" CLUB

The "L" Club was reorganized several years ago for the purpose of making it possible for all winners of the coveted "L" to act as a body. Therefore it is much more than merely an honorary club.

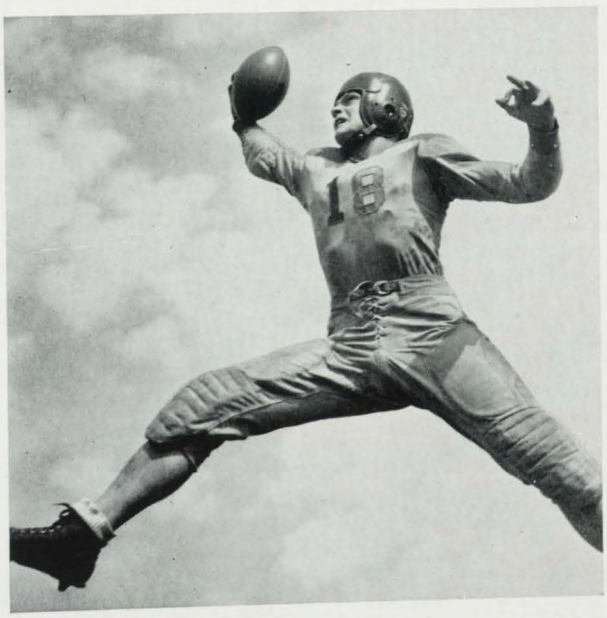

The "L" Club has often come to the front for the Athletic Department when in temporary financial straits; it encourages promising high school athletes to seriously consider the opportunity to come to the University of Louisville and make a name for themselves on the athletic fields; it stimulates closer friendships among the various "L" men in school, allowing them to meet in a group other than while participating in a sport; and finally it serves the entire school socially when it presents the Annual "L" Club Dance, conventionally after the last football game of the season. This latter affair is truly one of the most gala occasions of the year. Plans are already being made to have a "name" band for the 1940 dance.

COACHES

Coach Laurie Apitz completed his fourth football season on Belknap Campus by producing the most successful grid combine to represent the University in a decade.

"Laughing Laurie" was aided by line coach John Cechini, who played under him at College of Pacific. John proved himself a congenial companion, a helpful coach, and an inspiring leader throughout the season.

Mr. Apitz coached the cagers without an assistant, except for early season help from Si Monen, former Cardinal basketball star.

"Jolly John" Heldman coached the baseballers unaided through another fine season and in his off-season time tutored the Freshman football and basketball teams. "Little Alex" Davidson, former Cardinal grid Captain, helped Coach Heldman with the young Red Birds on the gridiron.

P. E. P.

Its second year in existence on the Belknap Campus was one to make P.E.P., the student organization which promotes athletic enthusiasm throughout the city as well as the University, a tradition at U. of L.

Serving as its leader, Hayes Holmes announced early in the school year the purpose of the organization and the desire to gain the support of the more spirited students. Six hundred answered the call to make U. of L. athletic conscious.

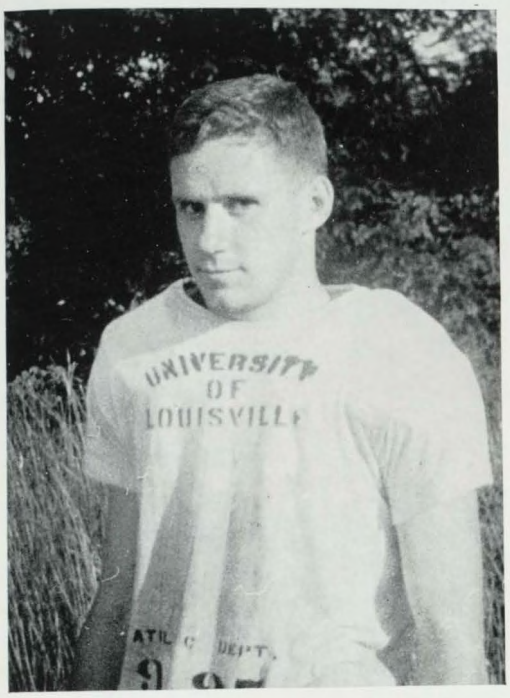

Its first act of major importance was to cooperate with the Student Council in putting over the "All Campus Round-Up" and pep rally which was held on Iroquois Hill the afternoon prior to the football team's first home game.

A few weeks later the entire group of six hundred made up an enormous (popularly pronounced, I-normus) motor-cade to Danville for the U. of L.-Centre fracas. Each automobile was elaborately decorated with red and black streamers. Danville was indeed taken by storm, as was Centre College.

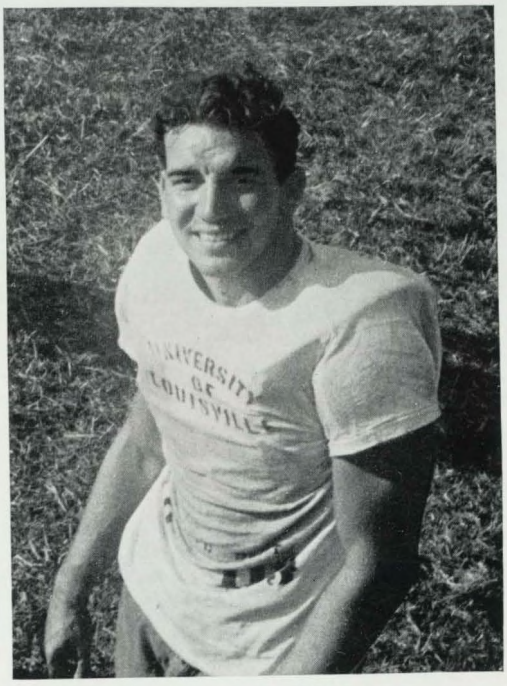

The following week a similar motorcade was conducted to the Georgetown game. It was equally successful.

During the home season, P.E.P. had a special reserved section between the thirty yard lines which not only gave its members the choice seats but also concentrated the group into a formidable cheering section.

FOOTBALL CAMP

FRED SCHLOEMER, Co-Captain

LOU ZIMLICH, Co-Captain

A squad of 40 Cardinal hopefuls journeyed to Pewee Valley for the annual Alumni football camp at the Louisville Fresh Air Camp. Coach Apitz, assisted by John Cechini and Alex Davidson, sweated his charges through a week of calisthentics, signal drills, fundamentals, and general conditioning maneuvers. The Alumni came through, as usual, with plenty of muscle building food and milk, so the boys put on some good solid weight despite the heat. Several injuries slowed down a few of the candidates, but the rest worked harder to be in shape for the opening game.

The Alumni Camp was the answer to the question, "What single thing will most aid the U. of L. football team?" At camp, soft muscles are hardened, tender skin is toughened and green players are developed into competent performers. Here the team gains a spirit of comradeship and cooperation so essential to a winning team.

TRANSYLVANIA

The 1939 edition of the University of Louisville Cardinals opened the football season at Lexington on September 22 with a well-earned win over Transylvania College. The Cardinals faced a favored Transy combine which carried a weight advantage of ten pounds per man.

Taking the receiving end on the kick-off, Louisville marched to the Pioneer three yard line on four consecutive first downs, but were checked by a penalty and an injury to Tony Sgroi, starting tail-back. The Red and Black would not be denied, however, and took Transy's punt out on the fifty yard line and marched to a touchdown. Don McKay and Gene Langan did the heavy work on this drive and Henry Kurk finally went over from the one yard line for the first score. Fred Schloemer converted from placement and the score was 7-0. We were held scoreless during the second and third quarters, but in the fourth quarter the Cards "shot the works." The second touchdown came when Harold Turner scooted thirty-five yards through the entire Maroon team and scored standing up. Shortly after this, the Cards again surprised their cohorts with another score. Jimmy Rosenfield, substitute right-half, let go with a twenty yard pass to Lou Zimlich, who promptly picked his way twenty more yards through the Pioneer secondary for the tally. With several minutes remaining, Virgil Hulette, in for Leahy at defensive left-half, speared a desperate Transy aerial on the 50 yard line and streaked down the side line for the last of the Cards' 25 points.

Transy made three first downs while the Cards were garnering a total of fifteen.

INDIANA STATE TEACHERS

The high flying Cardinals journeyed to Terre Haute on September 30 to engage the Indiana State Teachers College. The first quarter found Charley Hampton kicking the Sycamores deep into their own territory, but the advantage derived by this was lost when U. of L. fumbled a Teachers punt at mid-field. Henry Kurk intercepted a pass on the Cards 40 and raced to the hosts' 40 a few plays later.

The second quarter opened with U. of L. pushing to the 1 yard line, but stalling there. A Sycamore punt went over Sgroi's head and finally stopped rolling on the Cardinal 20. Tony ran back, scooped up the ball, and was hit hard. He fumbled, and the ball was picked up by a Teacher who ran it over the goal line. The touchdown was not allowed, but the Hoosiers started their attack from the U. of L. 20, first down. From this point, Leavitt faded back and passed to Curtis, who took the pass for a touchdown despite the interception efforts of Jimmie Rosenfield. The extra point was good to make the score 7-0 against us at the half.

The second half found the Cards threatening again and again, with Fred Schloemer working miracles on pass interceptions, Lou Zimlich doing his part by completing several aerials, and Gene Langan gaining needed yardage by off tackle reverses. The offensive spark always seemed to dissipate at midfield, however, and the Hoosiers kept their goal uncrossed. The Cards lost their opportunity for an undefeated season as the game ended, 7-0.

EVANSVILLE

The Cardinals played their first home game against Evansville College, and were cheered on by a mammoth parade and pep rally directly preceding the game. Five thousand supporters saw the University of Louisville threaten twice in the first half against the heavier Purple Aces. The Hoosiers retaliated by working the ball to the Cards' 24, where an attempted field goal fell short. Half time found the teams deadlocked at 0-0, but Louisville rooters found encouragement in the evident lack of condition of the Purples' line.

In the early part of the third quarter a high pass from center went over Charley Hampton's head on fourth down and he was downed on the U. of L. 40. Little All-American Hess then passed to the Cardinal 19 and 1 yard lines in successive plays, from which point Easley slashed over for the score. The extra point was blocked by Freddie Schloemer. Score, 6-0.

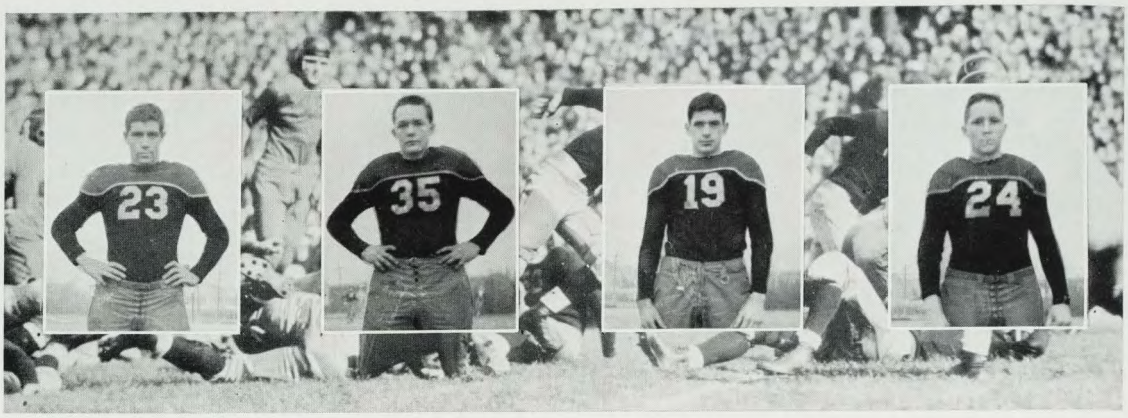

During the remainder of the third and the beginning of the fourth quarters, the Cards concentrated on working the failing Aces into a hole in their own territory. Their chance came when Evansville was forced to punt from their own 10 with five minutes remaining. Harold Turner speared the pigskin on the 50, and squirmed his way to the 20. Turner, Rosenfield, and McKay then took turns at running to put the ball on the 9 yard line. Turner then went to the four and Rosenfield cracked the line for the score. Fred Schloemer converted with a perfect placement, and the Cardinals came out on top by the score of 7-6.

HOLBROOK

The Cardinals entertained Alfred Holbrook of Manchester, Ohio, for the second home game of the season. Coach Apitz faced the visitors with a starting line-up generously sprinkled with Sophomores. The Cards bobbled through the first quarter and succeeded in awarding the visitors the ball on the Louisville 20 yard line as the second quarter began. The Blues' coach inserted "Toe" Cottle, who calmly booted a field goal to take the lead for Holbrook, 3-0. An infuriated University of Louisville eleven then took the ball from their own 20 to the visitors' goal on a series of bucks, passes, and sweeps by Stone, Kurk, and Turner, with Kurk tallying on a cut off tackle. The extra point was no good.

The fading Holbrook forces desperately and gamely fought off the Cardinals, but they could not deny another score in the middle of the fourth quarter, with Jimmie Rosenfield going over after intercepting a pass. Fred Schloemer again converted, and the score stood at 20-3. The visitors gained the respect of Louisville players and fans alike by their spunky and sportsman-like actions throughout the game. These boys were the first Cardinal opponents in two years which were outweighed by our team.

ST. JOSEPH'S

The Cardinals faced their toughest home competition in the Pumas of St. Joseph's College, the "Little Notre Dame" of Northern Indiana. Thursday night, October 19, found the Birds considerably outweighed by the Crimson clad invaders, who were favored by a margin of 10 points.

The teams cautiously felt each other out in a punting duel to start the game, with Hampton having a slight edge over Bob Duax, rated as the best collegiate kicker in Indiana. Early in the second frame, the Cards swept to the visitors' 7 yard line by a series of passes and sweeps from their own 40. Jimmie Rosenfield snapped a perfect pass from the 7 to Lou Zimlich in pay dirt. Freddie Schloemer converted and the score was 7-0.

The third quarter saw the Red Birds driving deep into Puma territory but missing scoring opportunities several times. When Louisville punted from mid-field early in the fourth, the St. Joe safety man was hit so hard by the Cardinal forwards that he fumbled. Fred Schloemer recovered for Louisville on the Puma 15 yard line. "Termite" Turner fought his way to the 6 on a reverse, and Rosenfield broke the Pumas' hearts with an off tackle sprint to the end zone. He missed an opportunity for a perfect evening when his attempted placement was wide. The score, 13-0. The Cards outgained St. Joe by almost 4 to 1 in yardage and by 3 to 1 in first downs. An outstanding performance was turned in by Virgil Hulette, who played 60 minutes of steady, winning football in his understudy role for Tom Leahy. Rosenfield showed like a veteran in taking Langan's place.

CENTRE

The annual "blood game" between the Cardinals and the "Praying Colonels" of Centre College was played in Danville on Saturday afternoon, October 28. Upwards of 1000 fans followed the Birds into the Colonel stronghold and were rewarded by witnessing an epoch in the annals of U. of L. football history. The Centre team, highly touted after holding Army to a 3 point margin, were none the less anxious to avenge the close scrapes given them by the Cards in the past two years.

After solving a devastating series of inside tackle smashes which the Colonels used to pick up three successive first downs in the first few minutes of the game, the Cards played the Colonels to a standstill throughout the first three quarters. Magnificent punting by Hampton gained precious yardage over the punting of Herrick, Colonel kicker.

Early in the fourth quarter, the Danville team reached the 2 yard line by means of a long pass to Amundsen. With a first down on the two, the Colonels attempted to drive off tackle, but Sophomore Louis Schloemer broke up the play five yards behind the line. Two more desperate stabs and the Colonels were back on their own 14, as the U. of L. line rose up to throw back everything coming its way. The fourth down was used in an attempted field goal, which went low into the arms of half-back Jimmie Rosenfield, who ran it out to the 22. A Cardinal punt was then taken by Jap Thompson at mid-field and returned for an apparent touchdown. The score was disallowed because of a clipping penalty, and the Colonels were thrown back an additional 15 yards. On the next play, Centre attempted to regain their lost ground by a long pass which was speared by Virgil Hulette on the Louisville 40 yard line and returned to the end zone. A clipping penalty on the Cards nullified this score also, and the remainder of the game found the teams fighting on even terms in Centre territory. The final score was 0-0.

GEORGETOWN

The Cards faced the Georgetown Tigers on their own field on November 4. Captains Schloemer and Zimlich appointed Gene Langan as acting Captain immediately preceding the kick-off.

During the entire first half, the Tigers were kept on their heels by the kicking of Charles Hampton, but the Cardinals were unable to score. In the third quarter, a well-placed Tiger punt put the Red Birds on their own 3 yard line. Hampton was hurried in his kick from behind his own goal, and the Tigers had first down on Louisville's 31. Georgetown's A. B. Rudy then completely baffled the Cards by sweeping wide to his right almost to the sidelines, then reversing his field and returning to the other side line picking up interference as he went. He scored down the opposite side line standing up and the score was 7-0 Georgetown.

The Cards sprang back, however, after an exchange of punts, and carried the ball by four first downs to the 7 yard line as the third quarter ended. Sgroi drove to the five, Rosenfield to the one, and Joe Stone cracked inside tackle for the score. Fred Schloemer converted to tie the score 7-7.

The fourth quarter found the teams battling at mid-field on even terms. With 33 seconds to go, however, and the ball on the 49, the Tiger fullback faded deep and let go a long, wobbly pass which McCandless gathered in on the 30 and continued across the goal. The Tigers converted, and the Cards went down for the second defeat of the season, and the third consecutive loss to Georgetown by the margin of one touchdown.

HANOVER

The 1939 season was climaxed by the homecoming game against Hanover College. This test wrote finis to the playing careers of seven regulars in the Red and Black.

A large homecoming crowd saw a spirited U. of L. team seize the first break of the game, a partially blocked quick kick at mid-field, and utilize it to score before the game was 8 minutes old. Tony Sgroi and Harold Turner alternated in splitting Hanover with devastating reverses and slants. Don McKay scored from the one yard line. In the second frame, a fistic flurry followed Charles Hampton's over-enthusiastic tackling of Hanover's Dan Miller.

After the half, two consecutive passes to Zimlich and Caufield from Sgroi and Rosenfield netted 35 yards and a first down on the 18 yard line. "Rosey" then romped to the 16, and McKay was stopped for no gain by the fists of a Hanover lineman. Referee Nappy Frank made a none too gentle indication of the foul, and was accused by Hanover's Captain of slugging his team-mate. Coach Van Liew further complicated the affair by threatening to take his boys back up the river. The result was that Hanover was penalized to the 1 yard line, from whence Rosenfield passed to Zimlich for a touchdown. With five minutes to go Coach Apitz gave his Seniors a last chance together, and was rewarded by Don McKay's 82 yard touchdown run. Fred Schloemer converted 2 out of 3 to make the score 20-0. Charles Hampton and Tom Leahy were outstanding on the defense, while Dick Oldham and Fred Schloemer were outstanding in their offensive blocking.

SENIORS

The class of 1940 is said to have been the greatest in a decade from the standpoint of varsity athletics. Particularly in football have these boys made an inestimable contribution to the University.

In 1936, their Freshman team was undefeated, taking the measure of the Frosh from Georgetown, Transylvania, and Centre. In '37 and '38, this group was the nucleus of two improving teams, and in '39 their careers were climaxed by the most successful U. of L. gridiron record in a decade.

The following Seniors received gold footballs symbolizing their part in the uprising of Louisville athletics:

Co-Captain Fred Schloemer

Fred was named most valuable player in '37, and best defensive player in '39. He received All-State Honorable Mention for three years. Throughout his collegiate career, Fred proved himself a versatile, brainy ball player by playing guard, blocking back, and defensive half and full. He called signals and directed the team on defense. Fred's outstanding characteristic was a cool, rational courage that made him a dangerous opponent and an invaluable teammate. At times of greatest stress, "the flying Dutchman" exerted a stabilizing influence on the entire team, and his dependability in judgment and action was always heartening to the team.

Co-Captain Lou Zimlich

"Lightning Lou" was named on the Associated Press "Little All-American" team in '38, All-State Honorable Mention and Kiwanis Sportsmanship Award in 1939. He was a formidable factor on defense, a sharp offensive blocker, and an excellent pass receiver at his position at right end. Lou was an aggressive, dominating type of player who never let up as long as he was physically able to dish out punishment. His fiery play and determined nature were inspirational, and a lagging eleven soon found itself the target of Lou's lashing tongue as he drove them with his indomitable spirit.

Charles Hampton

Charley was voted most valuable player in '39, and received All-State Honorable Mention the same year. He smashed opponents' plays from his position at right tackle by cutting down interference as it formed. His 200 pounds of co-ordination and determination formed a dependable cog in the team's offensive machinery. Charley's quick-rhythm punts behind a spread line were the margin of victory more than once during '38 and '39, and his accurate passes from punt formation took their toll of yardage.

Tom Leahy

Tom was voted the best blocker on the squads of '38 and '39, but that only recognizes the mechanical perfection of his blocking technique. The main assets of this "Fighting Irishman" were his scrapping heart and will to win. A deceptive quick kicker and a hard, sure tackler on defense, Tommy always hit for the joy of hitting, and was the unsung hero of many a touchdown drive and goal line stand.

Eugene Langan

Genie finished his third year of competition in the Georgetown game, for which game he was appointed Captain. He was a hard-driving runner whom foes feared when he started those off-tackle reverses. An accurate left-handed passer, Genie completed his percentage of aerials for scores during his career. His quiet, friendly, unassuming nature earned the admiration of his friends and the respect of his opponents.

Don McKay

Don was a steady, dependable, 60-minute fullback for three years. He was a conscientious blocker, a rugged plunger who could outrun many halfbacks, and a devastating tackler from his defensive post behind the line.

Dick Oldham

Shifted from end to tackle in his Junior year, Dick soon made a name for himself as an excellent lineman. Always a "team" player who recognized the value of cooperation, he was a brainy obstacle to an opponent's offense and a perfectly functioning element in the Louisville attack. Although in competition Dick expected no quarter and gave none, he will be remembered by his teammates as a genuine sportsman.

Virgil Hulette

Virgil understudied Tom Leahy at blocking back, and was recognized as a valuable player by virtue of his relief work at this spot. A speedy, precise blocker, he excelled at clearing the way on sweeps and wide reverses. Virgil was a dependable defensive halfback, using his six feet two inches profitably in intercepting several passes at critical moments and turning on his speed to run them back for long yardages.

Harold Turner

"A 135 pounder with a heart that must have been half of him," that's the only way to describe Harold. From his halfback spot, he would plow into an opposing line as if he were running signals, and on passes would fight his way through the secondary into the clear. Although hampered by injuries during three years of competition, Harold maintained his place as a valuable back, and was a specialist at sparking the team into an offensive drive.

VARSITY BASKETBALL

The 1939-40 basketball season at U. of L., although unvictorious, was not uneventful or altogether unsatisfactory to loyal team supporters.

The Cards lost to superior fives from Holbrook, Hanover, Evansville, Berea, Georgetown, and Western, while dropping heartbreakers to Kentucky Wesleyan, Eastern, Centre, and Transylvania. The K. I. A. C. tournament at Richmond found the Redbirds figured as underdogs in their first round game with Berea College. Contrary to predictions, the Cards triumphed over the Mountaineers 58-56 for the first win of the season. Bob King and Joe Roney supplied the winning punch in the fading minutes of the last quarter to tie and then pass the score of the favorites.

Bob King, Sophomore forward, was named on the all K. I. A. C. team in recognition of his exceptionally consistent all-round performance.

Co-Captain Bob Weber led the team offensively from his center post, keeping the Cards in many a ball game by his one handed flips. Bob was a spirited player who never failed to encourage the team during its darkest situations.

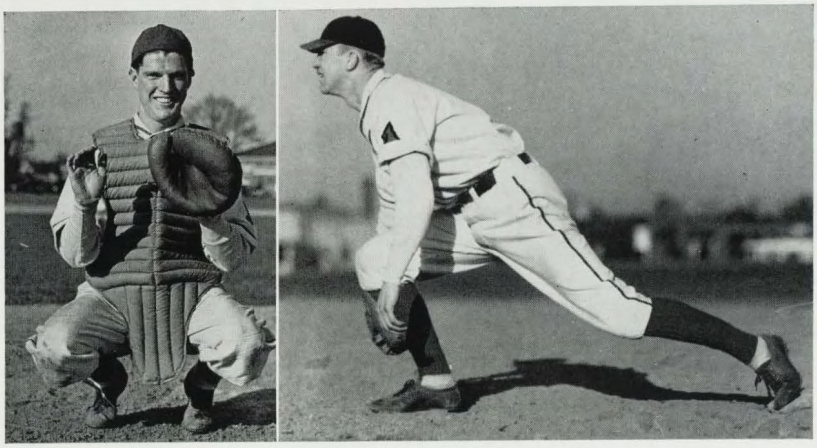

Co-Captain Elwyn Horine played a steady, dependable game at guard, stopping opponents drives and intercepting passes to save a threatened goal. "El" played more than any other man on the squad, and although frequently injured, never failed to turn in a fighting game.

The major number of starting assignments were handled by Weber, Horine, King, Lanham Frazier, Harold Summers, Aaron Andrews, and Walt Slater, but Joe Roney, Jack Craemer, Joe Sheeley, and Gavin Morris were valued greatly as reserves and saw a great deal of action.

VARSITY BASEBALL

The Cardinal nine which for the past two seasons has been the S.I.A.A. champions, is showing promise of another successful year under the astute tutelage of John Heldman.

It is Heldman's fond hope that the current edition of baseballers can duplicate the winning habits set for the past three seasons by his lads, who in that period have won thirty games as against only six defeats. Quoting Coach Heldman: "It will be extremely difficult to find four college players that could match the all-around ability and teamwork of that shown by our former infielders, Fred Elliston, Bob Ayre, and Jim Estes, and the masterful pitching technique displayed by Teddy Zimney who baffled the opposition for four magnificent seasons as a member of the Cardinal hurling staff." These performers, along with a returning nucleus of outfielders: Walt Slater, Hayes Holmes, Joe "Hot Potato" Sheeley; pitchers Crutcher and Stultz; catcher Harold Turner; and Jim Ogden, first sacker carried the Cardinals to a glorious season of 11 victories, and a lone defeat by DePauw in 1939.

Fred Elliston, playing second base led the club in hitting with an amazing .439 average. Bob Ayre, playing every inning of every game, as lead-off man proved successful in that role by receiving 17 passes, and was invaluable as shortstop. He was one of the most brilliant fielders seen in collegiate circles. Harold Turner led the club in base thefts with 22. Hayes Holmes, playing his second year with the Cards in the center garden, led in the all-important runs-batted-in column with 24, led in circuit clouts with four to his credit and received a dozen walks as well. Jim Estes played his usual steady game at the hot corner and hit a cool .378. Jim Ogden, as clean-up hitter crashed a .384 average. George Crutcher won six games on the mound and Ted Zimney copped five with a lone defeat, and that by one run.

VARSITY BASEBALL

At this writing the 1940 edition of Cardinal Baseballers have copped their first two encounters from Oberlin Ohio and Franklin College (Ind.), both by one run margins. Already, the new members inserted in positions vacated by graduating seniors have shown very well.

In the infield Coach Heldman has found it necessary to supplant Jim Ogden, who, although eligible, is pressed with work at the Dental School and finds it virtually impossible to get out to the Campus very often. Should Jim fail to play, his position will be taken by Sophomore Bob King, a hard-hitting right-hander. At the keystone sack is Charlie Zirkle, a smart ball player who will also hit in the second niche in the daily line-up. At shortstop is Carlyle Kissler, another Sophomore who looks good at the plate as well as in the field. Clure Mosher is switched this year from the outfield to the hot corner, where he has a natural flair for scooping wicked smashes. In reserve are newcomers, Wedekind, Boyle and McClelland.

In the outfield are Walt Slater, who is also hitting in the clean-up spot; Hayes Holmes, playing his third season as the regular centerfielder; and Joe "Hot Potato" Sheeley in rightfield. In reserve in Doug Murphy.

"The catching department is the strongest we have had in my four years at the University", says Coach Heldman. Veteran Harold Turner returns for his fourth season and is well supported by Charlie Roberts, who has an arm that is death to would-be thieves. Also listed as a backstop is the hard-working Harry Neal.

On the mound the Cards look very formidable. Returning are George Crutcher, who is one of the few pitchers we have seen in collegiate competition possessing a fast ball that "hopped". Veteran John Stultz also will see a lot of service on the slab and along with Soph Wally Franks, who looks like a real prospect for the major leagues, they make up an impeccable staff.

TRACK

The University of Louisville presented its first track team in several seasons during the season of 1940. Meets were scheduled with Georgetown, Eastern, Centre, Berea, and Hanover. The K.I.A.C. meet was run off this year at Berea.

Co-Captain Fred Brand was counted upon to annex points in both 100 yard and 220 yard sprints, while Co-Captain Charles Hampton seemed a certain point gainer in the high jump, discus throw, shot put, and javelin.

Art Gall represented the school in the pole vault and broad jump, while Herb Moore performed in the 440 and the javelin throw, and Grant Dugger and Joe Stone ran only the 440. Gavin Morris and Charles Rosenberg got their share of points in the distance runs.

Jimmie Rosenfield did well in the sprints and the broad jump while Tom Leahy, George Heilenman, and Willie Ware ran the low hurdles. Carey Evans worked on the high hurdles and the high jump. Norbert Elbert filled out Coach Apitz's squad in running the 220.

MEN'S INTRAMURALS

The 1939-40 Intramural program was one of the most complete and best supported of those ever offered at University of Louisville. The University Intramural champion was chosen on the basis of events won, whether team or individual sports, and number of men participating from each organization.

The first event was tennis, Lannam Frazier edging out Willie Ware in the finals. Golfer George Read edged out Bob Mickler for the title in the field of golf. Touch football ended with Kappa Alpha the champs and Pylo the runners-up, and in the annual free throw contest in connection with intramural basketball, Louis Laeng and Stuart Felton divided honors. In the All-University basketball tournament Medical School's Phi Chi Fraternity triumphed over Delta Sigma for the coveted intramural basketball crown.

In the usual hot contest for the ping pong championship Louis Herrmann was victor over Jack Whitehead in the finals, while Pylo trimmed the Psychopaths for the volleyball championship. Finally, Kappa Alpha nosed out the Rangers and Delta Sigma to score first honors in the annual intramural Track and Field events.

Softball, horseshoes, swimming and boxing will complete the year's intramural program.

FROSH ATHLETICS

FOOTBALL

The Class of 1943 contributed an excellent group of baby Redbirds to the University's athletics. The Frosh footballers, besides operating as fodder for the varsity, turned in several stirring contests of their own.

Opening against Transy's young pioneers, the fledglings missed several opportunities to score in a 0-0 tie on Belknap campus.

In the second game, at K. M. I., George Rooney exploded two touchdown bombs to victimize the soldiers 13-6. The Lyndon All-Stars then came to town, but our yearlings sent them back on the short end of a 41-0 count.

The final game of the season was a grudge affair with the Varsity's sophomores. The older boys won with offensive snap by a tally of 12-6.

Coaches John Heldman and Alex Davidson awarded numerals to the following men:

Captain Phil Uhrig
Edward Blessinger
Farrell Brady
Walter Bruning
John Carpenter
Lambert Coleman
Frank Fust
Barney Grimes
Clarence Haberlin
Charles Klapheke
Marion Langan
Charles Mitchell
Colgan Norman
Pat Perry
Gene Pierce
George Rooney
George Sager
Bill Wareing
Hugh Wright
Charles Avery, Manager
Ted Sheets, Manager

BASKETBALL

The young Cardinal cagers enjoyed a fairly successful season under the tutelage of Coach Heldman. Eighteen games were scheduled, and our Frosh won 11 and lost 7, scoring 549 points to their opponents 525. Four games were against collegiate frosh, Georgetown and Western each furnishing the opposition twice. High School fives were booked for 10 games, while independent and church teams filled out the schedule. The following men were awarded numerals:

James Bacon
Jim Craik
Hugh Frances
Marty Kasden
Orville Maish
George Rooney
Elwood Stultz
Ted Sheets, Manager

GIRLS' ATHLETICS

Girls' sports were given added significance and impetus during 1939-40 with this innovation—in addition to the President's cup which is presented in June of each year to the one team which has won most points from the whole year's rostrum of sports, the Women's Athletic Association is presenting four individual cups to the team winning each of these sports—volleyball, basketball, swimming and softball. As usual, individual girls are working for their letters and sweaters.

Now for the year's parade of sports!

HOCKEY

U. of L. girls efficiently upheld the Red and Black last fall in the city-wide class "A" tournament. Nearing the end of the season the Cardinalettes were in a three-way tie for first place with Masonic Home and Collegiate School. In a crucial game on November 24 with the Masonic Home girls we were on top until the closing minutes when we let down long enough to allow two decisive goals to be pushed across and lost by 3-2. This insured us third spot with the other two fighting it out for first and second positions.

Ruth Strull ably managed this sport while Martha Arterburn captained the team. Girls playing were: Winifred Corrigan, Louise Lynch, Margaret Hughes, Ruth Strull, Andy McNeil, Sue Morton, Dolly Gordon, Norris Smith, Margaret Lynch, Frances Blanchard, Virginia Durrett, Norma Schumacher, Helen Keith Ransdell, Jean Wells, Libby Sengel, Laura O'Bryan, Virginia Powell, and Marion Yaeger.

TENNIS

Taking advantage of the short and perfect fall, the 25 entrants in the tennis tournament started on their schedules at the time. However, old man winter soon cut short our time. All the rest of the matches are carried over and will be completed in the spring.

VOLLEYBALL

One of the most popular, this sport attracted nine teams and a total of 75 players who brought volleyball down to a fine technique and made this one of the closest, most thrilling sports on the campus.

Zeta Tau Alpha defeated Sigma Kappa in a tense play-off for their first place tie. Sigma Kappa, having dropped an early game to the Cardinalettes, decisively defeated the Zeta girls to even up their standing at five wins and one loss. Then the Sigma Kappa's let down and lost to a revigorated Zeta Tau Alpha team.

The final order of the teams: Zeta Tau Alpha, Sigma Kappa, three-way tie for third—Cardinalettes, Independents and Chi Omega, Pi Phi, Kappa Delta, Gamma Rho, Delta Zeta.

Honorary varsity team members are: Ruth Caven, Libby Sengel, Margaret Lynch, Norma Schumacher, Mary Ward Goddard, and Stacy Hall.

BASKETBALL

The Independent girls of Belknap Campus swept clear a field of hard-fighting teams to win this sport with a record of 6 wins and no losses. Members of the team were: Sue Morton, Martha Reichelderfer, Virginia Vissing, Ruth Strull, Dorothy Walker, Betsey Short, Jean Wells, Sara Lee Bloom, Dolly Gordon, and Louise Lynch.

The Independents clinched their hold on the title by nosing out the Cardinalettes by 17-15 in one of the best games of the season.

FINAL STANDING	WON	LOST
Independents	6	0
Zeta Tau Alpha	5	1
Cardinalettes	4	2
Pi Beta Phi	3	3
Sigma Kappa	2	4
Chi Omega	1	5

THE HONORARY VARSITY: Guards—Sally Sandidge, Sara Lee Bloom, and Margaret Lynch; Forwards—Ruth Caven, Libby Sengel, Martha Reichelderfer, and Norma Schumacher.

PING PONG

As we record this there are as yet eight girls still in the tournament to fight for first spot. They are: Martha Reichelderfer, Jane Krieger, Margaret Hartman, Mary Arterburn, Martha Arterburn, Libby Sengel, Genie Stuart, and Laura O'Bryan.

SWIMMING

Piling up 62 points the Pi Beta Phi team easily won the W.A.A. swimming meet on March 20. Second place went to the Independents with a total of 35 points and Sigma Kappa took third with 16 tallies.

Margie Roe paced the winners and won top individual honors with 20 points, while Polly Altsheler, a teammate, was second with 14 points. Jean Wells, swimming for the Independents, scored 12 to take third place.

SOFTBALL

So sorry that we can't record more news about this sport which always is a good spring tournament full of close battles and lots of fun.

We are certain of one thing—the outcome of this match is very important. Take a look at the present standings of the teams in competition for the President's Cup. This does not include those from ping pong, tennis, or softball.

Independents	16
Zeta Tau Alpha	15
Sigma Kappa	8
Cardinalettes	6
Pi Beta Phi	6
Chi Omega	3

CINCINNATI PLAY DAY

U. of L's delegation to the University of Cincinnati's Play Day came back with three firsts and an admirable second in swimming on Saturday, March 16. We competed with representatives from University of Cincinnati, University of Kentucky, Wilmington, Wittenberg, Marietta, Miami, Akron, Mt. St. Joseph, Dayton, Earlham, and Cedarville.

Our basketball team had an easy time defeating Mt. St. Joseph by 25-10. Those playing for the Red and Black were: Ruth Caven, Margaret Lynch, Norma Schumacher, Martha Reichelderfer, Sally Sandidge, Libby Sengel, and Sue Morton.

Defeating the University of Cincinnati volleyball team by 25-15 was a job well done by Caven, Lynch, Schumacher, Reichelderfer, Morton, Sandidge, Sengel, Wells and Bridges.

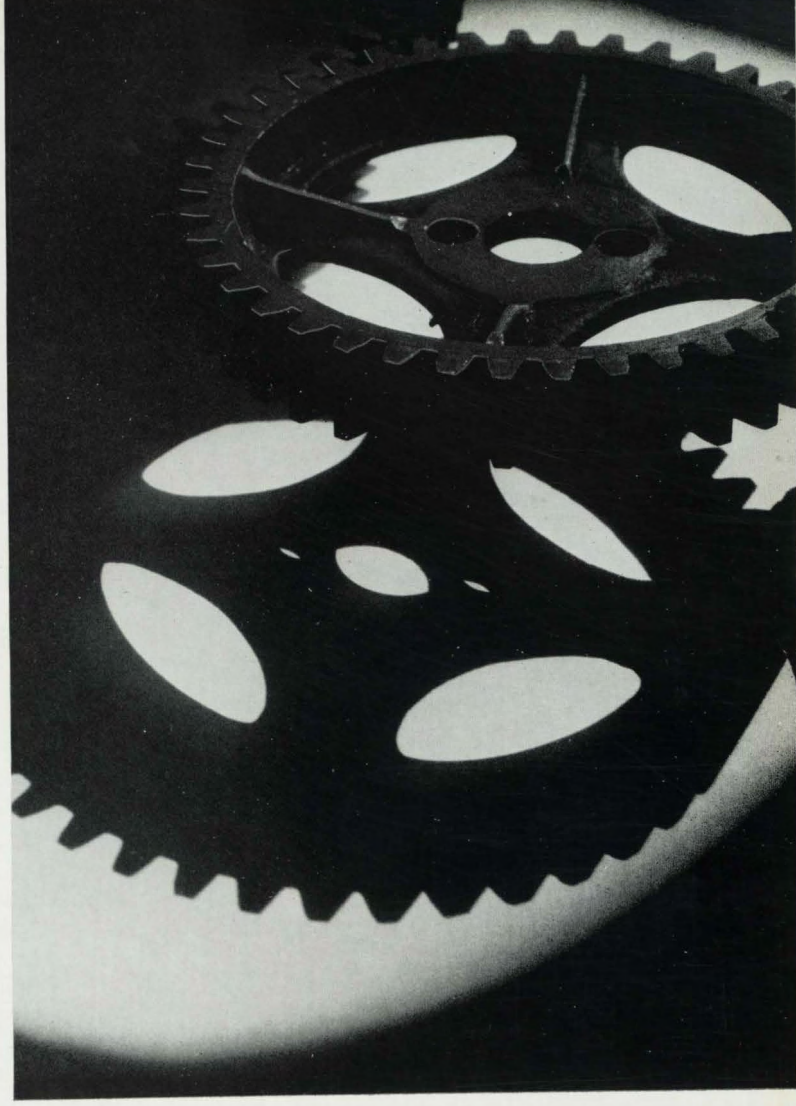

Mary Walton Harris and Marjorie Roe defeated Wittenberg in deck tennis. Losing by the heart-breaking score of 14-15 in the third and deciding tilt, Doris Dannenhold and Frances Thomasson lost their badminton to the University of Cincinnati.

Our swimming entrants numbered only four, Mary Walton Harris, Polly Altsheler, Marjorie Roe, and Jean Wells, but they did more than hold their own against larger contingents. They took second place.

It should be explained that this Play Day was held in the spirit of good fun and sportsmanship and not with the idea of high competition.

After a delicious banquet each school represented, presented a skit. Sally Sandidge wrote one for our bunch built around the Snow White tale. Taking part were Mrs. Shearer as Snow White and Bridges, Dannenhold, Roe, Schumacher, Caven, Harris and Thomasson.

SPEED SCIENTIFIC SCHOOL

FORD LEE WILKINSON, JR.
Dean

SPEED SCIENTIFIC SCHOOL

An increase in enrollment from 120 students in 1929-1930 to 283 in 1939-1940 marks the history of the Speed Scientific School for this decade. Like every other school in the University, Speed School during the Thirties made advances in physical equipment and the number of students, as well as general academic standing.

For the greater part of the decade the dean was Bennett M. Brigman, who died early in 1938. We may attribute much of the success of the school to his efforts.

In 1929 the school had three departments; in 1936, the number was increased to four — Civil Engineering, Chemical Engineering, Electrical Engineering and Mechanical Engineering. In addition, it now offers graduate work in Chemical and Electrical Engineering.

Four industrial fellowships for graduate research have been provided by industries and industrial associations.

This decade is memorable also for the establishment of the Division of Industrial Research, which will contract to do research work for industry.

Early in 1940 the erection of a new Speed School Building was begun, and this marks another step toward the fulfillment of the Larson Plan. Gifts for equipment for Speed School and for the new building were mainly from Mr. William S. Speed, Mr. Frederic M. Sackett and Mr. and Mrs. Gustav Heyser.

The school is the only fully accredited engineering school south of the Ohio River.

The dean at the present time is Ford Lee Wilkinson, Jr., Annapolis graduate and Master of Science from Columbia. He came to the University in September, 1938, after serving with the Wilson-Weesner-Wilkinton Co. in Nashville, Tennessee, the Knoxville, Tennessee Bureau of Smoke Regulation and the Riley Stoker Corporation of Worcester, Massachusetts.

SCHOOL OF MUSIC

DWIGHT ANDERSON
Dean

SCHOOL OF MUSIC

The School of Music is the youngest of the six schools of the University, although music as a course first made its appearance in the curriculum of the College of Arts and Sciences in 1907. From this course, then given by John Peter Grant, the School of Music traces its lineage through a Department of Music, which was added to the College of Liberal Arts in 1928.

The early Thirties saw the Louisville Conservatory of Music gasping for financial breath; it expired in February, 1932. A temporary arrangement was at once made with the faculty of the Conservatory, and in the same year the School of Music of the University of Louisville came into existence. The first dean was Jacques Jolas, of the Juilliard Foundation, which subsequently sent Arthur Brown to assist in orchestral work.

Each year since its founding, the School of Music has presented concerts, and has been expanding its activities in the form of chorus, string ensemble, and other performances.

On January 1, 1937 Dwight Anderson became dean, and E. J. Wotawa, who had been associated with the University since 1928, became associate dean. Mr. Anderson, who received his education in the Cincinnati Conservatory of Music, New York and Paris, was head of the Department of Piano of the School of Music prior to his accession to the deanship.

In December, 1938 the School was admitted to full membership in the National Association of Schools of Music.

A recent $5,000 gift by Mrs. Belknap is being increased annually by additional amounts for the erection of a new proposed music building, the Emily Davidson Recital Hall.

The University's Radio Programs

"A modern university in an institution of specializations and of broad generalizations. It trains the Doctor of Surgery, and it trains Mr. Everyman, the citizen. It produces the scientists, the musicians, the philosophers, the experts in every field that goes to make up the full and worthwhile life. The modern university holds it as a foremost purpose to help men and women, both on and off the campus, to derive the best that there is in life for them. Truly, the modern university is the pacemaker of the modern world."

In this spirit the University has produced four successful radio shows during the past school year under the supervision of Morton Grodzins, Director of Publications, utilizing the facilities of Louisville's three stations, as well as of the Mutual Network.

Without the Music School talent, both faculty and student, two of these programs would have been impossible. The oldest of the group, UNIVERSITY, a variety half-hour carried by WHAS at 1:30 Sundays, has on its permanent musical staff the School of Music Vocal Trio, directed by Louise Boggs, who also sings as mezzo-soprano, with Marcia Hamilton as soprano and Frances Botts as alto. The String Trio provides an instrumental background, as well as featuring in solo spots. The guiding spirit of this group is Miss Grace Whitney, teacher of cello, and the performers are Ruth Beard, first violin, Kay Fitzmayer, second violin, and Dorothy Lewis, piano.

Notable among the performances of the year were Dean Dwight Anderson's appearance as piano soloist on the first program, such faculty artists as Miss Whitney, Miss Elizabeth Hoffman, teacher of harp, and Mr. Fletcher Smith, voice teacher. The appearance of a mixed quartet, consisting of Marcia Hamilton, Louise Boggs, Hugh Fleming and Robert Fischer was another musical highlight, as was the singing of J. Bertram Harmon's male chorus.

On the non-musical side, scientific and other educational interviews proved popular, and a flood of fan mail appeared after a performance of a play by student Elvis Lane, called Cub Baptism, in which Roy Haynes, blind student, gave a thrilling performance in the leading role. Everyone who has worked on UNIVERSITY will be anxious to acknowledge the excellent co-operation of Station WHAS, and especially that of Mr. Peter R. Disney, production and continuity man, whose continued aid and advice were immeasurably valuable.

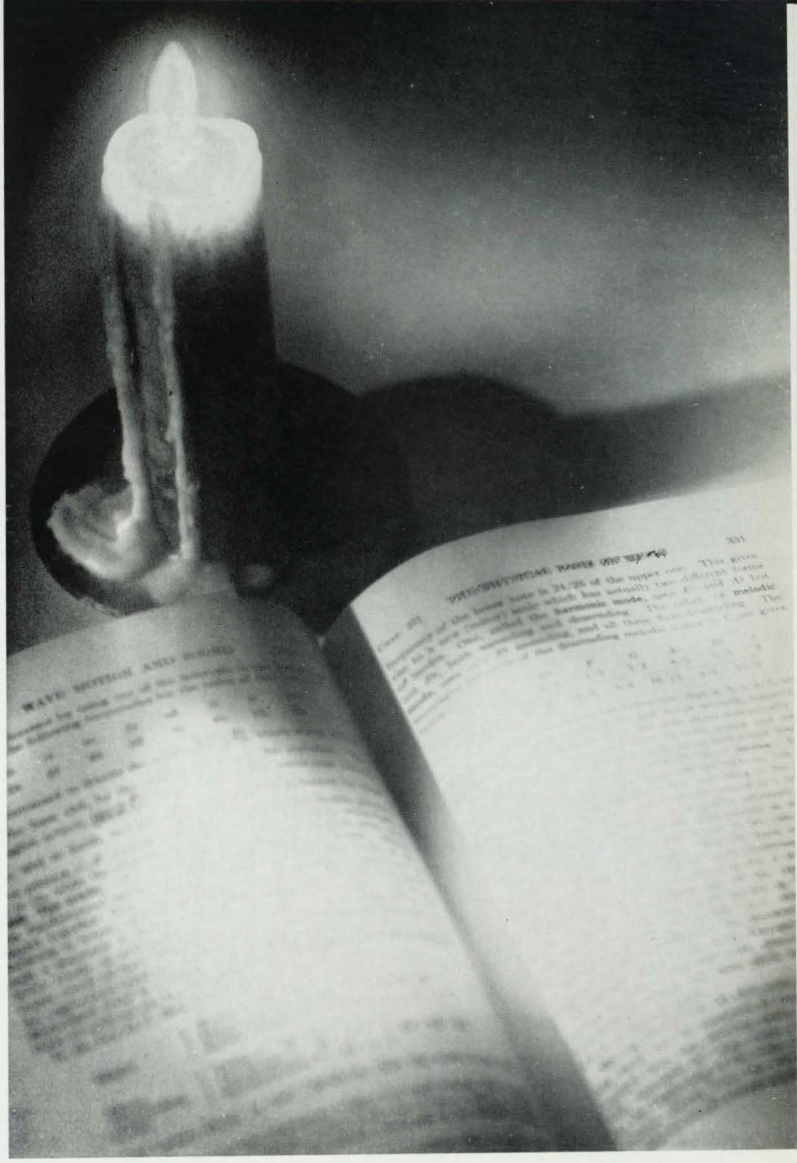

The program given by the School of Music faculty and advanced students over WAVE at 2:30, Thursdays, is an example of the splendid musical work of which the University is capable. Directed by W. Lawrence Cook, the programs have never descended from the uniformly high level at which they aimed, both from the standpoint of music played, and performances of that music. Appreciation of lovers of fine music has been expressed from points all over Kentuckiana.

One non-musical program of the University, the ad lib weekly discussion by faculty members and an occasional student, called What Do You Think, heard over WAVE at 6:30 on Thursday evenings was an unqualified success and aroused widespread comment. It was directly in line with the trend of educational thought which believes in straightforward, many-sided discussions of current issues, designed to awaken the public to these issues without stating dogmatically what they should believe. Thus the title of the series . . . WHAT DO YOU THINK?

And, last to appear, but flourishing mightily, is the program called BOOK LOOKS, given by Dr. Harvey Curtis Webster over WGRC and the Mutual Southern Network, at 7:15 on Saturday evenings. His reviews of new books are the opinions of an expert, yet given in such a way as to appeal to all who might, on occasion, read a book, and they bid fair to interest many of the radio audience in worthwhile books that otherwise might not come to their attention.

"The modern university holds it as a foremost purpose to help men and women . . . derive the best that there is in life for them."

DIVISION OF ADULT EDUCATION

Although the Division of Adult Education was established in 1928, it became a separate administrative unit in 1935 under Dean Oppenheimer with Mr. Paul Druien as Executive Secretary.

The year 1935 was an important year, for then the Division began not only a cooperative field arrangement with the city, but also with the Art Center.

A graduate program in Chemical Engineering was first offered in 1937, and in the same year Mr. Frederick Stamm assumed the duties of Executive Secretary of the Division.

It was in 1938 that courses in Music were first offered. In 1939 an undergraduate program for Speed School undergraduates was established.

At the present time the Division of Adult Education offers courses in the College of Liberal Arts, Music School, Speed School and Graduate School. At some time in the Division's history, courses in every school of the university have been offered.

Mr. Frederick Stamm came to the University in 1931 as a member of the teaching staff in the Department of Economics, but became the present Executive Secretary of the Division in 1935. He received B.A. and M.A. degrees from the University of Michigan and M.B.A. (Business Administration) from Harvard University.

DIVISION OF ADULT EDUCATION

Increased interest in adult education in Louisville within the last decade resulted in the organization, by the University, of the Division of Adult Education. It was thought that in order to better serve the educational needs of the community a well-rounded program of evening courses be offered for those unable to attend day classes. As evidence of the need for such a program this Division has grown from an enrollment of 109 students in 1928 to 1660 for the school year of 1938-39 and is now the largest unit, numerically, in the University.

For the first several years all of the classes were conducted in the College of Liberal Arts. Increased interest on the part of commercial and industrial firms and professional and scientific organizations led to increased enrollments and a greatly expanded curriculum. As a result, the Division is now offering courses in the Music School, the College of Liberal Arts, the Speed Scientific School, and the Graduate School. Although the greater part of its program consists of regular college courses, the Division conducts each year a number of informal lecture series and special non-credit courses.

One of the most interesting phases of the work is the educational programs conducted in cooperation with the American College of Life Underwriters, the Transportation Club of Louisville, the Louisville Credit Men's Association, and the Division of Nurses of the City Health Department. In this connection courses are given in life insurance, transportation, credit management, and nursing.

The Division's faculty consists largely of members of the regular University staff. But as the program has grown and the work in special fields has increased, it has been necessary to supplement this regular staff with experts from various business and professional fields.

It would be difficult to find a more interesting and hetrogeneous group than is represented by the Division's 1100 or 1200 students. They range from 17 to 71 years in age and have a wide diversity of educational interests. The educational objective of the largest group is vocational improvement, but many others are working for the four-year arts degree, the graduate degree or the various certificates given by the Division.

The unemployed, trying to prepare for a job, and the retired business and professional men seeking an enjoyable use of their time, are enrolled. Between these extremes are men and women from an extremely wide range of vocations—from laborer to minister. Specific cases of what persons take, and why, will reveal such things as a barber taking Human Physiology to better understand the human organism and the probable causes of scalp troubles; a dentist studying music; a minister taking chemistry; one farmer studying engineering and another enrolled in photography; a fireman working for a teacher's certificate. The enumeration could go on indefinitely.

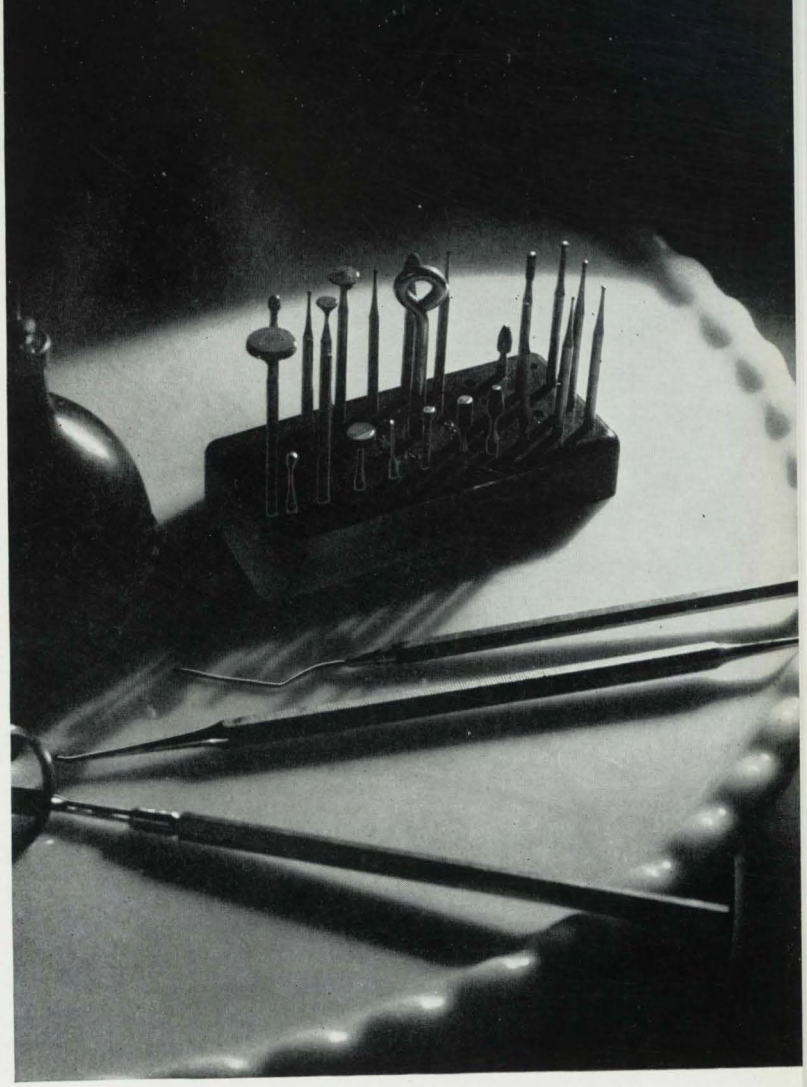

One of the most encouraging trends in recent years has been the increasing number of persons who are attending evening classes for the fun of it—for "cultural growth".

Family groups are quite numerous in the evening school enrollment. Husband and wife, father and son, mother and daughter, brothers and sisters are enrolled. Groups of two, three and even four from one family are numerous. And, strange as it may seem, these persons have different educational interests and usually take d i f f e r e n t courses.

The University, through the Division of Adult Education, is making available an educational program varible in scope and adaptable to the general and specific needs of the community.

SCHOOL OF DENTISTRY

JOHN THOMAS O'ROURKE
Dean

SCHOOL OF DENTISTRY

One of the few fully accredited dental schools in the United States, the School of Dentistry during the Thirties has witnessed an increase of the teaching staff, installation of modern equipment and enhancement of reputation.

The last decade has seen the purchase of the Pope Sanitorium property next to the School. The purchase was made with the hope of building as soon as funds are secured.

Two years of college work, instead of three, as formerly, are now required for admission to the School of Dentistry. The dental course, however, has been lengthened to four years.

The school is the home of the Dental Journal, the first publication on dental education in America; Dean John T. O'Rourke holds the editorship.

The school suffered a loss during the past decade by the death in 1937 of Dr. Theodore Beust, one of the most active dental research workers in America. In 1934 he was president of the International Association for Dental Research.

The faculty has been increased from four full time men to eleven. One member of the faculty, Dr. J. H. Fullenwider, is now president of the Kentucky State Dental Association.

In 1935 the School of Dentistry was accredited by the Board of Regents of the State of New York.

One new feature of the student body is the establishment of the Honor System.

John T. O'Rourke, of all deans of the University, is the oldest in point of service, having been connected with the School for twenty two years. He is secretary of the Curriculum Committee of the American Association of the Dental Schools, and member of the Research Committee of the American Dental Association. In 1935 he was president of the American Association of Dental Schools.

GREETINGS TO THE 1940 CLASS

After having graduated from the University of Louisville Dental School in the Class of 1919 I feel that I might give a few hints that may be of assistance in the future.

Knowing the thorough course you receive and your qualifications for graduation, it will not be necessary for me to dwell upon that subject at any length. There is no cut and dried set of rules to be laid down for any person or group, but the fundamentals are now and always have been the same.

The selection of a location should be one that approaches nearest the ideal of the individual but should also possess all the advantages that make for good business conditions.

Conduct of practice may be summed up with the application of the "Golden Rule." Always give an honest service to the best of your ability. Keep a neat and clean appearance about yourself and the office and yours should be a success very near the goal you have set.

HALF A CENTURY OF DENTISTRY

The year 1940 is the 100th anniversary of the establishment of organized dentistry in the United States. The year of 1840 saw the establishment of the first national dental society in the United States, The American Society of Dental Surgeons; the founding of the first dental school, The Baltimore College of Dental Surgery; and the publication of the first dental periodical, The American Journal of Dental Science. These events lifted the "trade of dentistry" out of the "barber shop-blacksmith" level, and started the progress of the profession to its present high plane.

It is altogether fitting at this time that we should make some attempt to compare the crude beginnings of the School of Dentistry, University of Louisville, when it was founded in 1887, with the institution which we all know and respect today.

The School of Dentistry was founded in 1887 as a department of Central University of Richmond, Kentucky. It was located at 324 East Gray Street. The entrance requirement in 1887 consisted of "a diploma from a reputable high school, or college, or a first grade teacher's certificate, or stand an examination in those branches which go to make up a good English education.

The course of study was two years long, consisting of a "course of study" presumably didactic material from January to June, and "Fall Clinic" and laboratory courses beginning in September.

In 1899 the franchise was purchased by a group of medical and dental teachers, and the school was reorganized under the name of the Louisville College of Dentistry, and was removed from Gray Street, to its present site at Brook and Broadway, and the present building erected. The 1901 catalogue describes "a handsome and complete dental college building, modern in arrangement, and equipment, which has been pronounced by all who have inspected it to be the most perfect dental college building in existence. The basement is of gray limestone; second story of Bedford dressed stone; and the third and fourth stories of light color pitched pressed brick with stone trimmings. There is a central entrance on Broadway leading into a large vestibule enclosed on both sides by plate glass, which shows direct into the infirmary, giving a view of the full length of this magnificent room. From the left side of this hall you enter the main hall, where one stairway seven feet wide leads to the second floor and another to the basement."

The present student body would find it difficult to connect this description with the little hall at the bottom of the stairs where they wait for eight o'clock classes to start.

In 1901 there was also a library and museau situated in the same spot as today, but probably not as complete. Again referring to our 1901 catalogue, we find that: "To further the interest of this library and museau and render it more valuable to our students and the general profession, we ask donations of old books and magazines of every kind pertaining to dental subjects (the older these are the more valuable to the library) in order that we may render it more complete. There are many old books out of print, and which cannot be purchased, in the hands of dentists who do not especially care for them, that would become very valuable to this library."

Evidently in 1901 Dental State Board examinations were not given in all states. In those states where these examinations were not given, the dental degree was not recognized. This fact did not seem to bother the 1901 graduate, he took the State Medical Board exams, and then went on and practiced dentistry. Again we quote, "It is a distinct tribute to the thoroughness of the teachings of the principles and practice of dental surgery that the graduates from this institute have no difficulty in passing the examining boards of those states where no dental degree is recognized."

In 1901 the course of study consisted of courses in anatomy, physiology, chemistry and metallurgy, operative dentistry, dental pathology, and embryology, prosthetic dentistry, crown and bridge work, prosthetic technics, operative technics, dental and comparative dental anatomy, orthodontia, materia medica, pharmacology, and hygiene, surgery, anaesthesia and oral diseases.

More interesting than the 1901 curriculum was the extra-school life of the out-of-town dental student. "Board can be obtained near the college, at from $3 to $4 a week, in the best families." The Y.M.C.A. was the principal social organization of the dental student. Its principal object was "To welcome young men from Christian homes and try to prevent them from being enticed into evil ways by the allurements of a large city."

In 1918 the entrance requirements were raised and required a diploma from a four year high school. The course of study was also lengthened from three to four years. In 1925 one year of college was required for entrance. In 1930 the entrance requirement was raised to include two years of college work, but the length of the course was decreased from four years to three years. This curriculum continued until 1935, when the course was again lengthened to four years. The curriculum established in 1935 is still followed today.

The present course of study includes courses in anatomy, general histology, pathology, bacteriology, physiological chemistry, physiology and pharmacology which are taught at the School of Medicine; and orientation, oral anatomy, materials, oral hygiene, full and partial denture prosthesis, operative dentistry, orthodontia, oral pathology, diagnosis, exodontia, oral medicine, anesthesia, radiography, pharmacology, principles of medicine, prevention, oral surgery, practice management, history of dentistry and jurisprudence, which are taught in the Dental School.

FROM MANIKIN TO MOUTH

The practice of dentistry requires as a part of the treatment of decay, or dental caries, the removal of this bad tooth material, and the replacing of this tissue with some type of restorative. In those cases where teeth are missing, they too must be replaced. Naturally, it would be dangerous for the novice to attempt the difficult task of preparing cavities on living patients. It also would be rather unlikely that patients could be found to submit to this procedure.

As a substitute for the living patient, a manikin is used. This device is a metal model of the upper and lower jaws, with the lower jaw movable, as it is in life. During his first year each dental student makes a full upper and lower denture for a manikin. The manikin becomes the best friend and constant companion of each student during his second year. Cavities of all types are prepared, and restoratives of all types placed in them. The student also constructs two fixed bridges and several removable partial dentures. During the second half of his sophomore year, the student breaks away from his manikin long enough to spend some time in the prosthetic clinic making full upper and lower dentures, and in the operative clinic where he does prophylaxes, and prepares cavities and fills them with silver amalgam and synthetic porcelain cement.

The manikin is left behind for better or for worse in the junior year, as procedures are limited to living patients. Naturally, since "continued application is the key to all success," the embryo dentist becomes more proficient, less painful to his patients, and develops a greater degree of speed and accuracy. The senior year sees a continuing of these achievements. What lies beyond we have yet to learn.

EXPLOITATION of the MEDICAL PROFESSION

EVERYWHERE it is rampant—newspapers, magazines, billboards, radio. "Your doctor will tell you that . . . ." "Medical science has found that . . . ." "The greatest specialists in Timbuctoo say that . . . ." And the rest of the story is, of course, "Use our pills or our vitamins three times a day; ask your doctor."

◆ ◆ ◆

You are forced to compete with those who offer your patients free advice regarding medical treatment. You deliver Mrs. Blank's baby today, and tomorrow she will receive by mail samples of baby foods with complete directions how to use them. Indeed, some physician representing a commercial organization and knowing that the case is in your hands may address a personal letter to your patient offering his services free.

◆ ◆ ◆

It has been said that ten more years of the present trend of interference in medical practice will do away with the need for private practice of infant feeding and other branches of medicine.

◆ ◆ ◆

Mead Johnson & Company have always believed that the feeding and care of babies and growing children is an individual problem that can best be controlled by the individual physician. For over twenty years and in dozens of ethical ways we have given practical effect to this creed.

So long as medical men tacitly encourage the present trend, so long will serious inroads continue to be made into private medical practice. When more physicians specify MEAD'S Products* when indicated, more babies will be fed by physicians because Mead Johnson & Company earnestly cooperate with the medical profession along strictly ethical lines and never exploit the medical profession.
